Message from the Founder President

Greetings!

The human race is witnessing scientific and technological developments like Artificial Intelligence Instant Communication, Space travel, and medical breakthroughs on one hand and total chaos, terrorism, bloodshed and massacre in the name of caste, creed, religion and resources on the other hand.

There is a degradation and disregard of social, moral, cultural and ecological values. A culture of revolt and action rather than patience and tolerance seems to be emerging in today's youth. Amidst this challenging environment, I am happy that an island of hope is emerging with a mission to promote the ethos of value-based education, and at the same time creating awareness amongst the students about the importance of establishing a Culture of Peace for a holistic global society.

In an era when we are struggling to keep up with our ancient value education system; character building among the young global citizens of MAEER's MIT, now MIT- World Peace University, is encouraged, to the spirit of mutual co-operation and respect and blend it with professional careers of its learners. Today, it's the moment of pride to see the glorious achievements of MIT-World Peace University and my dream of VALUE BASED UNIVERSAL EDUCATION SYSTEM coming into reality.

For thousands of students, MIT-World Peace University is a gateway to their professional life. For nearly four decades, we have led the development of education in emerging technologies & modern professional practices to meet the need of the challenging and volatile job market. In the demanding environment, quality is paramount. MIT-WPU endeavors to provide the finest environment for teaching, learning, research, innovation and character building.

I hope that the students of MIT-WPU family with their wide exposure to academic and professional fields will leave a mark nationally or globally, by exhibiting their sound professional knowledge, unimpeachable character, sense commitment. I wish my MIT-WPU family and all the freshman of the incoming batch grand success and the Best of Luck.

3. Academic Guidelines

ABC ID (Academic Bank of Credits ID)

Academic Bank of Credits has been established on the lines of the National Academic Depository (NAD), in the sense, NAD is the backbone of ABC, where the students' academic data are held and academic awards are stored (i.e. storehouse of academic awards). Despite the fact that ABC enables students to register or commence credit transfer, the final outcomes of credit redemption and issuance of certificates, as well as the compilation of award records, are administered by academic institutions via the NAD Platform. Hence being the owner of academic awards, Academic Institutions must mandatorily register themselves under ABC via NAD.

The detail guidelines in this regard are available with following link:
https://www.abc.gov.in/assets/resources/Step_by_Step_Guide_ABCID_Students.pdf

Credit Structure

Credit structure is defined in terms of contact hours assigned for various academic components of a program. This includes classroom lectures, tutorials, practical sessions, projects, seminars, lab work, group work internship, immersion programs and any other academic activity for which contact hours are assigned in the curriculum. The credit details are as follows:

Details	Credit	Equivalence in hrs per week	Total Hours in a min. 15 weeks
Class room teaching	1 credit	1 hour	15 hrs
Lab/Tutorial/group/presentation work	1 credit	2 hours	30 hrs
Lab / Tutorial (applicable for Technical Schools)	1 credit	1 hour	15 hrs
Seminar (subject to schedule throughout semester)	1 credit	2 hours	30 hrs
Project work & Dissertation	1 credit	2 hours	30 hrs
Internship	1 credits	-	40 hrs

The broad components of evaluation for any course/subject may be as follows. The total marks for each course with maximum that can be assigned for each component will be as per specific requirements of school.

7. Plagiarism Policy

MIT-WPU plagiarism policy is that plagiarism, whether deliberate or unintentional, is a form of cheating and is unacceptable. It is expected that all students are educated in correct academic practice, including writing and referencing, early in their careers at the University and know what is expected of them and understand the meaning of plagiarism and its consequences. Definition of plagiarism

MIT-WPU definition of plagiarism makes explicit that copying from texts or web or other sources and copying work from other students constitutes plagiarism. It reads:

1. Plagiarism is the act of taking or copying someone else's work, including another student's, and presenting it as if it were one's own.
2. Plagiarism is said to occur when ideas, texts, theories, data, created artistic artefacts or other material are presented without acknowledgement so that the person considering this work is given the impression that what they have before them is the student's own original work when it is not.
3. Plagiarism also occurs where a student's own work is re-presented without being properly referenced.
4. Plagiarism is a form of cheating and is a disciplinary offence.

Student declaration

The standard coursework submission sheet for the receipt of coursework includes an explicit reference to the University's definition of plagiarism as follows.

I declare that this is my own work and that any material I have referred to has been accurately and consistently referenced. I have read the University's policy on plagiarism and understand the definition of plagiarism as given in this manual. If it is shown that material has been plagiarized, or I have otherwise attempted to obtain an unfair advantage for myself or others, I understand that I may face sanctions in accordance with the policies and procedures of the University. A mark of zero may be awarded and the reason for that mark will be recorded on my file.

Types of Plagiarism

1. Using another writer's words without proper citation. If you use another writer's words, you must place quotation marks around the quoted material and include a footnote or other indication of the source of the quotation.
2. Using another writer's ideas without proper citation. When you use another author's ideas, you must indicate with footnotes or other means where this information can be found. Your instructors want to know which ideas and judgments are yours and which you arrived at by consulting other sources. Even if you arrived at the same judgment on your own, you need to acknowledge that the writer you consulted also came up with the idea.

3. Citing your source but reproducing the exact words of a printed source without quotation marks. This makes it appear that you have paraphrased rather than borrowed the author's exact words.
4. Borrowing the structure of another author's phrases or sentences without crediting the author from whom it came. This kind of plagiarism usually occurs out of laziness: it is easier to replicate another writers' style than to think about what you have read and then put it in your own words.
5. Borrowing all or part of another student's paper or using someone else's outline to write your own paper.
6. In computer programming classes, borrowing computer code from another student and presenting it as your own. When original computer code is a requirement for a class, it is a violation of the University's policy if student submit work they themselves did not create.

Punitive Measures for Plagiarism

The University's Policy provides simple, graduated frameworks of penalties for plagiarism relating the severity of penalties to the number of offences and gives individual, formative advice after the first offence. There are both academic and disciplinary consequences. If found guilty, the student will receive one of the following sanctions, listed in order of increasing severity. All actions are reported to the Director of the School.

Disciplinary Warning

Verbal or written notification that the student has not met the University's standards of conduct, and that a repeated offense will result in more serious disciplinary action. It is not the case that first offenses automatically receive a warning; most first offenses receive a stricter response, with warnings reserved for cases with unusual mitigating circumstances.

Reprimand

A written statement censuring a student for violating University regulations, and stating that another offense will result in more serious action. This is normally considered a lenient response, even for first offenses.

Restitution

Requirement that the student, compensate the University or other persons for damages, injuries, or losses. Failure to comply results in canceled registration and a hold on future registration.

Disciplinary Probation

An action that places conditions on the student's continued attendance at the University, including the statement that further violation of University policies will likely result in dismissal.

The Committee fixes the term and conditions of academic probation. First offences often result in probation.

Suspension

A written statement notifying a student that his or her enrollment has been suspended for a specific period of time for violating University policy. The statement includes the terms and length of the suspension, as well as the conditions for re-admittance.

Dismissal

A written statement notifying a student that his or her attendance at the University has been terminated for violating University policy. Unlike suspension, dismissal is considered to be a permanent action. However, the institution may also provide conditions for re-admittance.

Framework of Penalties for Plagiarism Offences for Under-graduate and Post graduate courses

13. Mentoring Program / 'Psychologist and a Counsellor'

Mentoring Program:

Students have been assigned faculty mentors whose role is to help assimilate the MIT-WPU culture, facilitate intelligent choice making regarding selection of courses and help in identification of resources needed by all students. Do meet your faculty mentor regularly as per their convenience and availability.

Psychologist and a Counsellor:

A counsellor is a non-judgmental friend who understands, ensures privacy & confidentiality and counsels you by giving choices so that you make right decision. Counselling is based on structured and research-based therapies.

Managing emotions is important to ensure all rounded progress in life. To learn something new, we need to break the old walls of myths and misconceptions. Visiting a counsellor helps us to relearn some more helpful, progressive, reality-based thinking. Personal counselling is very important at every step in life even at the corporate level. What we think about situations affects our subconscious mind deeply which interferes with our present life and hinders our ability to lead a healthy life.

As normal human beings at any given time in life we could go through challenging times and have no one to share or guide us. We often do not share our issues with family or friends due to the fear of upsetting them. We worry that perhaps they may not understand or could become judgmental. At such times we recommend Personal Counselling.

- "I cannot concentrate or focus nor can I sleep, at times I get so scared that I go blank in my exams!"
- "Since the time he left me I cannot put my attention to anything I will not be able to live anymore..... can't bear it if she is not in my life!"
- "I have lost my confidence I feel worthless /hopeless; no one loves me. I don't want to live anymore".
- Nobody understands what I am going through....people become judgemental instead of understanding and supporting, Whom to share it with?
- Where do I seek help? Who will be able to really help?

Have you had any of these repetitive thoughts or are you facing a rejection that you are not able to cope up with?

Have you reacted very angrily first and then later realized that reacting to the event was not really needed and in the process you harmed the relations you had with your friends and family? You just do not know what went wrong then? Do not understand what triggered you?

Just as we would treat a sprain with some ointment, we try to heal our emotional pain on our own. At times when the sprain is not healing we visit the doctor and similarly one visits the counsellor sometimes when we are unable to clear our own emotional challenges. The counsellor needs to check how deep your wound is and usually you are helped by putting a plaster of protection (counselling). Sometimes the wound may have been too deep /chronic or your bone is broken it could also need psychiatric intervention and give appropriate help.

We may be unaware of the implications of our behavior on others but it eventually could affect our relations in daily life at home, in class, or at work. When the past emotional situations are not dealt with therapeutically, we could develop unhealthy negative thoughts and feelings which we need to be aware of as they could again lead to complications and could affect our performance, decision making, logical thinking, studies, relationships, and career. This form of continued stress can gradually affect our body and physiological health causing hypertension, respiratory ailments, gastrointestinal disturbances, migraine and tension headaches, pelvic pain, impotence, frigidity, dermatitis, and ulcers.

The biggest myth is to believe that to be emotional is to be weak so often we push all our emotional issues under the blanket and then to avoid sleepless nights take up unhealthy habits like smoking, drinking, and substance abuse. We do this hoping to feel better which lasts only for short term on the other hand creating long term damage and may lead to unhealthy dependency.

MIT-WPU wants to ensure holistic development of the students and therefore have appointed a team of psychologists and a counsellor.
